To be included in the directory, membership forms & dues must be received by the February meeting on Feb 6th . The goal is to pass out the new directories in March.

Programs: Cindy Toburen is working on the program schedule for 2025. Today's program is Granny K. Quilts

Community Service: Two fires were reported from news articles, Osawatomie and Louisburg but more information needs to be tracked down. We hope to have the information to report at the February meeting. Ginger Vail is calling both of the Sherriff's departments to verify our quilts were passed out.

Still looking for quilts to hang in the library (max width of 45 inches) – sign up passed around, see Marilyn Barbour-Gray; sign ups were passed around for the Extension Office (no size restrictions) – see Jerri Hefling.

Beginner Classes: Terri Couture has 19 students enrolled in the Beginner Class. She needs mentors, so please volunteer to help. First class is on January 11th beginning at 9AM & the goal is to have one mentor per beginner student. Classes will run through Feb 15th.

Challenge: Panel Quilts for July meeting. This year you are asked to make something from a panel. Be sure to take a picture if you cut it up. It can be anything you want to make.

Block of the Month: Jane Drugg's theme of the BOM this year is star patterns. February's block will be reds and pinks with the white background. Jane apologizes that the January BOM pattern was delayed on the website.

The winner of the drawing in the morning was Heidi Kessler.

Winner in the evening was Karla Hightower.

KCQRF: Remember we would like everyone to spread the word about the show, follow it on the website and Facebook. There is a lot going on this month, classes, merchandise and ticket sale info will be out Mid-January. Forms were sent around the room to nominate someone from our guild to be our MCQG Feature Quilter at KCQRF – turn in by/at the February meeting.

New Business: 2026 Opportunity Quilt is underway. Jane Drugg volunteered to head a group to update the MCQG Bylaws, Nancy Hart-Kline stated they were last updated approximately five years ago.
